The Employee will be confirmed in the services of the Company as per applicable terms and conditions, if the Employee's performance, at the end of the said probation period, is found satisfactory.

8.2. It is agreed that the probation period may be extended by a further period of up to 6 months at the sole discretion of the Company. During the probation period, the Company may terminate this Agreement by giving the Employee seven (7) days prior written notice and without assigning any reason.

8.3. The Employee will not be entitled to any severance payment as a consequence of termination of employment during the probation period.

8.4. During the period of probation, the Employee will not be entitled to any paid leave unless specifically approved in writing by the designated (Human Resource / Administrative) person of the Company.

8.5. On completion of the minimum period of probation, and subject to not having received any communication to the contrary, the Employee's employment with the Company will be deemed confirmed and the Employee will continue to be governed by the terms of this Agreement. In case of extension of probation period, the Company will issue a formal letter to notify the period of extension.

9. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

9.1. Termination by Company

The Company may, at its sole discretion, terminate this Agreement at any time upon prior written notice of thirty (30) days to the Employee if the Company terminates the employment without "cause" or due to unsatisfactory performance. The Agreement may be terminated on immediate basis if the Company terminates the employment hereunder for "cause".

For purposes hereof, "cause" shall include

Ankur Bardhan

a) the Employee's gross negligence in connection with the performance of his duties
b) any willful misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact by the Employee in connection with this Agreement
c) the willful breach of any material covenant of this Agreement by the Employee
d) In the case of an employee being involved or found responsible for any other disciplinary issue or fraudulent activity.

Where the employment is terminated without cause, the Company's maximum liability to the Employee towards severance payment shall be equal to one (1) month of basic salary, HRA, and special allowance and LTA prorated for one (1) month.

9.2. Termination by Employee

During Probation

The Employee may voluntarily terminate this Agreement by providing the Company with 30 day's prior written notice, during the probation period. Any failure in providing such notice would require the Employee to pay to the Company a prorated amount of 30 days basis the existing annual basic salary, HRA, special allowance and LTA. The notice period during probation can be waived off in good faith upon discretion and approval of department head & HR. At the time of termination, the Company may also require the Employee to complete any assignment or assignments on which the Employee was working to the satisfaction of the Company before relieving the Employee from services. During the notice period, the Employee will not be entitled to any leave.

After Probation

The Employee may voluntarily terminate this Agreement by providing the Company with 90 day's prior written notice, after confirmation of services in the Company. Any failure in providing such notice would require the Employee to pay to the Company a prorated amount of 30 days basis the existing annual basic salary, HRA, special allowance and LTA. At the time of termination, the Company may also require the Employee to complete any assignment or assignments on which the Employee was working to the satisfaction of the Company before relieving the Employee from services. During the notice period, the Employee will not be entitled to any leave.

9.3. Automatic Termination

Employee's employment hereunder shall automatically terminate upon his / her death or permanent disability to perform the services under this Agreement.

9.4. Full and Final Settlement

In the event that the employment of the Employee is terminated for any reason, the remuneration payable to the Employee will be netted off against any dues that the Employee has, towards the Company. Any amount payable by the Company shall be paid within a period of 45 days from the date of termination of the employment.

9.5. Survival

The obligations pursuant to Clauses 10, 11, 13, 14, 15 shall survive for both Parties even after the termination of this Agreement and shall not be extinguished by termination of this Agreement.

10. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

10.1. The Employee acknowledges that ownership of all intellectual property in all work performed by the Employee in connection with the performance of the services under this Agreement, or relating to the business of the Company, or using the resources provided by the Company, shall vest in the Company. Intellectual property in all such work shall automatically be assigned permanently to the Company as soon as it comes into existence. The Company shall be free to exploit such intellectual property in any geographical territory that it deems fit. The Employee shall not retain any rights in such work, except any moral rights, where applicable.

10.2. The Employee must submit any documents related to any and all intellectual property created under Clause 10.1 to the Company when requested by the Company or upon termination of this Agreement by way of handover. The Company may require the Employee to spend additional time beyond notice period if the Employee delays such handover. Consequently, the Employee acknowledges that, in addition to any other remedies of rights, the Company shall have the right to obtain injunctive relief to enforce the terms of this Agreement. Without prejudice to other rights available to the Company, the Company may withhold any pending remuneration to be paid to the Employee till the submission of such information to the Company as required under this Clause.

10.3. The Employee shall cooperate with the Company in protection and enforcement of any intellectual property rights deriving as a result of the employment, both during the Term and after the termination of the Agreement. This includes executing, acknowledging and delivering all documents or papers which are necessary to protect the said work, invention, improvement or idea.

10.4. The Employee will, promptly upon its creation, make full disclosure to the Company of each Employee Development. If required by the Company, the Employee will maintain work journals or log books or such other form of

www.lawsikho.com

recording methods provided by the Company to record the particulars of all Developments for or with which the Employee is involved or responsible.

11. ASSIGNMENT OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

11.1. The Employee expressly agrees that all Intellectual Properties created by the Employee shall be under a contract of service. In consideration of his employment with the Company, the Employee hereby transfers and shall be deemed to have assigned in favour of the Company, all rights, title and interest in and to all the Intellectual Properties, together with the rights to sublicense or transfer any and all rights assigned hereunder to third parties, in perpetuity. The Employee agrees that such assignment shall be perpetual, worldwide and royalty free.

11.2. The Employee agrees that notwithstanding the provisions of Section 19(4) of the Copyright Act, 1957, such assignment in so far as it relates to copyrightable material shall not lapse nor the rights transferred therein revert to the Employee, even if the Company does not exercise the rights under the assignment within a period of one year from the date of assignment.

11.3. The Employee acknowledges and agrees that he shall waive any right to and shall not raise any objection or claims to the Copyright Board with respect to the assignment, pursuant to Section 19A of the Copyright Act, 1957. The Employee shall assist and cooperate with the Company in perfecting the Company's rights in the Intellectual Properties.

11.4. The Employee shall forthwith communicate to the Company and transfer to it the exclusive benefit of all inventions, discoveries and improvements which he may make or discover during the continuance of his engagement relating to the Company's trade or business and will give full information as to the exact mode of working and use the same and also all such explanation and instructions, to the officers and workmen of the Company as may be necessary to enable them effectively to work the same and will, at the expense of the Company, furnish it with all necessary plans, drawings and models.

11.5. The Employee shall, whenever requested so to do by the Company whether during or after the termination of his employment hereunder, at the cost of the Company execute and sign any and all applications, assignments and other instruments which the Company may deem necessary or advisable in order to apply for and to obtain letters, patent, design, registration or other forms of protection for the aforesaid improvements, inventions and discoveries in such countries as the Company may direct and to vest in the Company the whole, right, title and interest therein.

b) to the extent that such Confidential Information is required to be disclosed by any applicable law or any applicable regulatory requirements or by any regulatory body to whose jurisdiction the Employee is subject or with whose instructions it is customary to comply under notice to the Company.

13.4. The Employee shall notify the Company promptly of any legal proceeding that would require disclosure of any Confidential Information and, at the request and expense of the Company, provide any assistance requested by the Company to enable the Company to seek and obtain a protective order prior to such disclosure.

13.5. The Employee shall not, except as and to the extent required, make any copies, distribute or reproduce the Confidential Information. Such copies or reproductions shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Employee shall take such steps as are necessary to restrict access to and protect the confidentiality of such copies or reproductions of the Confidential Information.

13.6. Due to the extent of the disclosure of the Confidential Information to the Employee, the Employee understands that the Company shall suffer irreparable damage if the Employee breaches any of his / her obligations under this Agreement and that monetary damages shall be inadequate to compensate the Company. Consequently, the Employee acknowledges that, in addition to any other remedies of rights, the Company shall have the right to obtain injunctive relief to enforce the terms of this Agreement.

13.7. For the sake of clarity, the restrictions placed on Confidential Information under this Clause 13 are applicable even during the period of probation and for a period of two years following termination of this Agreement.

14. NON-COMPETITION AND NON-SOLICITATION

14.1. Non-Competition

a) During the Term of this Agreement, and for a period of two years after termination or expiration of this Agreement, the Employee agrees that he or she shall not start any new business which is identical or similar to the business model, product or services provided by the Company.

b) During the Term of this Agreement and for a period of two years after termination or expiration of this Agreement, the Employee agrees that the Employee shall not, directly or indirectly, engage as a consultant, employee, sole proprietor, member of a partnership, director, investor, officer or director of a company, or as an associate, or be an agent of any person, business organisation or entity which is a direct competitor (or any person or entity that is reasonably anticipated to the general knowledge of the Employee or the public to become a direct competitor) of the Company.

c) The Employee shall not originate any publicity, news release or other public announcement related to the Agreement without the prior written approval of the Company.

14.2. Non-Solicitation

During the term of this agreement and for a period of one two years following termination of this Agreement, the Employee shall not:

a) solicit, encourage, or induce or attempt to solicit, encourage, or induce any employee, marketing agent, or consultant of the Company to terminate his employment, agency, or consultancy with the Company or any prospective employee or potential customer with whom the Company has had discussions or negotiations not to establish a relationship with the Company;
b) induce or attempt to induce any current customer to terminate its relationship with the Company.

15. NON - DISPARAGEMENT

During the Term of this Agreement and at all times thereafter, the Employee shall not, directly or through any other person make any public or private statements, except by way of feedback to the Company itself, (whether orally, in writing, via electronic transmission, or otherwise) that disparages, denigrates or maligns any of the Company's respective businesses, products, services, activities, operations, affairs, reputations or prospects; or any of the Company's respective officers, employees, directors, partners, agents, members or shareholders. For purposes of clarification, and not limitation, a statement shall be deemed to disparage, denigrate or malign the other party if such statement could be reasonably construed to adversely affect the opinion that any other person may have or form of such first person.

The foregoing limitations shall not be violated by truthful statements made by the employee : (i) to any governmental authority or (ii) which are in response to legal process, required governmental testimony or filings, or administrative or arbitral proceedings (including, without limitation, depositions in connection with such proceedings).

Ankur Bardhan

16. EQUITABLE REMEDIES AND INDEMNIFICATION

16.1. The restrictions contained in the Agreement relating to Confidentiality, Intellectual Property and its assignment are necessary for the protection of the business and goodwill of the Company and are considered by the Employee to be reasonable for such purposes.

16.2. The Employee agrees that any breach of either such clause is likely to cause the Company substantial and irrevocable damage that is difficult to measure. Therefore, in the event of any such breach or threatened breach, the Employee agrees that the Company, in addition to such other remedies which may be available, shall have the right to obtain an injunction from a court or any other forum of competent jurisdiction, restraining such a breach or threatened breach and the right to specific performance of the provisions of either such Clause.

16.3. The Employee hereby provides complete indemnity to the Company for any loss or damage caused to the Company or any of its affiliates and assignees due to breach of obligations by the Employee under this agreement.

17. MISCELLANEOUS

17.1. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding of the Parties and supersedes all prior agreements, whether oral or written, between the Parties. The Schedule A and B attached to this Agreement shall form a part hereto and shall be equally binding as this Agreement.

17.2. Binding Company Policies

The Employee is bound to abide by and adhere to the policies, rules, and regulations enforced by the Company from time to time including those relating to conduct, discipline, benefits, salary review, retirement, and any other matters as though these rules, regulations and orders were a part of this Agreement. Such policies, rules, and regulations may be subjected to alteration and amendment.

17.3. Amendment and Waiver

Any provision of this Agreement may be amended or waived if, and only if such amendment or waiver is in writing and signed, in the case of an amendment by each of the Parties, or in the case of a waiver, by the Party against whom the waiver is to be effective. Furthermore, no forbearance, indulgence, relaxation, inaction or waiver by the Company at any time, to require performance of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall not, in any way, affect, diminish or prejudice its right to require performance of that provision at a later point in time.

17.4. Severability

If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement shall not be affected and each provision of this Agreement shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law. Any invalid or unenforceable provision of this Agreement shall be replaced with a provision which is valid and enforceable and most nearly reflects the original intent of the unenforceable provision.

17.5. Notices

Any notice pertaining to this Agreement shall be in writing and may be sent personal delivery, pre-paid registered mail or by email to the address stated in the signature block below.

Any notice, approval, instruction, demand or other communication under the above sub-clause shall be deemed to have been delivered

(i) if given or made by registered mail, upon receipt by the addressee;

(ii) if given by personal delivery at the time of delivery to the addressee; and

(iii) if given or made by electronic mail, upon a confirmation of transmission being recorded on the server of the Party sending the communication, unless the Party receives a message indicating failed delivery.

17.6. Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be enforceable against the Parties actually executing such counterparts, and all of which together shall constitute one instrument. The Parties may enter into this Agreement by signing any such counterpart.

17.7. Assignment

The rights and obligations under this Agreement are personal with respect to the Employee and cannot be assigned without the prior written consent of the Company. The Company shall be free to assign this Agreement to its Associated Entity or to a successor of the Company or its Associated Entity or to a purchaser of any of the assets of the Company.

18. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

18.1. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of India and shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the competent courts at Gurgaon and Kolkata.

18.2. In the event a dispute or difference arises in connection with the interpretation or implementation of this Agreement, the Parties to the dispute shall attempt in the first instance to amicably resolve such dispute through mutual consultations. If the dispute is not resolved within a period of 30 (thirty) days from the date of commencement of discussions or such longer period as the Parties may agree in writing, then a Party may initiate a legal proceeding.

For the avoidance of any doubt, this Agreement shall be effective only when signed by both Parties.
